Return From Camp

Peacefully nestled in the valley at the foot of the Smoky Mountains is Camp Merrie-Woods where approximately 100 campers and their counselors gather each summer for an eight week camping.

Coming from there this week are Gaynel Gex and Virginia Seal showing a healthful glow and full of the advantages of the camp but glad to be back to Bay St. Louis.

This is not their first summer there but they seem to have a greater realization of what the camp had to offer than when they were younger.

One of the things outside of the daily routine of camp life that they seemed to enjoy was the day that the camp was turned over to the campers and they became counselors and the counselors became campers.

And Gypsy Day was another event that was a thriller when all of the campers dressed as Gypsies and hied away to the great open spaces and lived the life of a Gypsy for a day and a night. And the over night rides and over night canoe trips on Lake Fairfield.

They were rather enthusiastic about the camp's bazaar when they sold the usual articles to be purchased at a bazaar together with soft drinks. The proceeds from this and the cash donations enabled them to send $500 to the Children's Relief. Last year the money went to China.

Girls from Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia make up the 100 girls and even a small number from Costa Rica, Cuba and Hawaii.

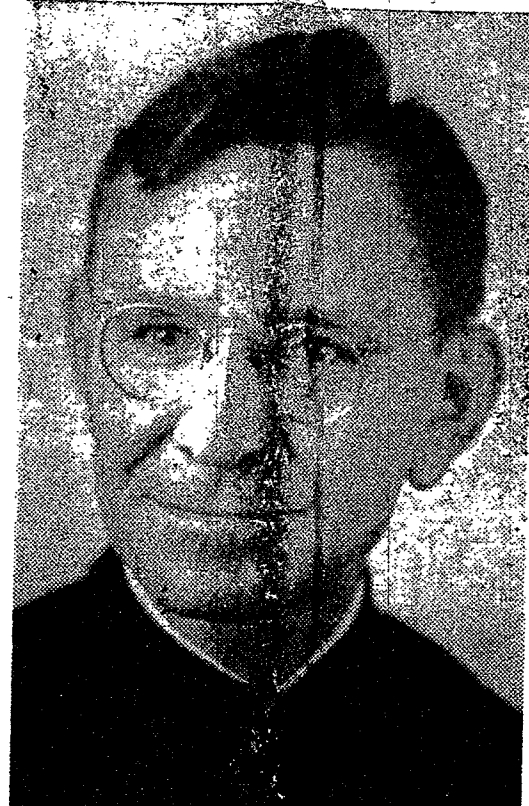

Gaynel and Virginia came back with rags, purses, towels and hats which they made by hand. They wove the yarn into cloth and then made the articles.

SAINT STANISLAUS REGISTRATION SEPT. 3RD TO 5TH

Brother Casimir, President of St. Stanislaus has set the following dates for Day Scholar Registration for the 1944-45 session: Sunday, Sept. 3; Monday, Sept. 4; and Tuesday, Sept. 5.

The unprecedented demand on the educational facilities of private schools is being felt at Saint Stanislaus. Its wide-spread reputation has drawn boys from many states. Due to limited boarding school facilities the school has been forced to limit this number. The number of day students who can be accepted is also limited because of lack of classroom facilities. Preference will be given to the sons of former pupils of Saint Stanislaus.

It is necessary for parents to register their sons personally. No boy except under certain conditions will be registered unless accompanied by his parents.

Spoke Sunday At Methodist Church

Miss Thelma Stevens on the staff of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church was the speaker, at the Sunday evening service at the Main Street Methodist church and gave a very informative and interesting exposition of the book "Christians and a New World Economy."

Miss Stevens in giving a resume of the questions to be considered said that these are not problems of the Christian nations but opportunities. Of these she listed Imperialism, Housing and Health, Racial problems, Education Organized labor and others. She dwelt upon the fact that the world cannot swing back to the way of life of pre war days but must set up a new standard of living for the post war period. One point brought out was the different social position granted to those because of the occupation which has been considerably leveled by the war.

In closing she said that the Christian church is the greatest world agency for establishing a new world economy.

MY BOY

LISTEN SON: I am saying this to you as you lie asleep, one stickily wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few minutes ago, as I sat reading my paper in the library, a hot, stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guiltily I came to your bedside.

"These are the things I was thinking, son: I had been cross to you. I scolded you as you were dressing for school because you gave your face merely a dab with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when you threw some of your things on the floor.

"At breakfast I found fault, too. You spilled things. You gulped down your food. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started off to play and I made for my train, you turned and waved a little hand and called, 'Good-bye Daddy!' and frowned and said in reply, 'Hold your shoulders back.'

"Then it began all over again in the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you, down on your knees, playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I humiliated you before your boy friends by marching you ahead of me to the house. Stockings were expensive—and if you had to buy them you would be more careful! Imagine that, son, from a father! It was such a stupid and silly logic.

Do you remember, later, when I was reading in the library, you came in, softly, timidly, with a sort of hurt, hunted look in your eyes? When I glanced up over my paper, impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door. 'What is it you want,' I snapped.

"You said nothing, but ran across in one tempestuous plunge, and threw your arms around my neck and kissed me, again and again, and your small arms tightened with an affection that God had set blooming in your heart and which even neglect could not wither. And then you were gone pattering up the stairs,

"Well, son, it was shortly afterwards that my paper slipped from my hands and a terrible sickening fear came over me. Suddenly I saw myself as I really was, in all my horrible selfishness and I felt sick at heart.

"What has habit been doing to me? The habit of complaining, of finding fault, of reprimanding—all of these were my rewards to you for being a boy. It was not that I did not love you; it was that I expected too much of youth. It was measuring you by the yardstick of my own years.

"And there was so much that was good and fine and true in your character. You did not deserve my treatment of you, son. The little heart of you was as big as the dawn itself over the wide hills. All this was shown by your spontaneous impulse to rush in and kiss me good-night. Nothing else matters tonight, son. I have come to your bedside in the darkness, and I have knelt here, choking with emotions, and so ashamed!

"It is a feeble atonement; $ know you would not understand these things if I told them to you during your waking hours, yet I must say what I was saying. I must burn sacrificial fire, alone, here in your bedroom, and make free confession. And I have prayed God to strengthen me in my new resolve. Tomorrow I will be a real daddy. I will chum with you, and suffer when you suffer and laugh when you laugh. I will bite my tongue when impatient words come. I will keep saying as if it were a ritual: 'He is nothing but a boy—a little boy!'

"I am afraid I have visualized you as a man. Yet as I see you now, son, crumpled and weary in your cot, I see that you are still a baby. Yesterday you were in our mother's arms, your head on her shoulder. I have asked too much, too much.

"Dear Boy! Dear little son! A penitent kneels at your infant shrine, here in the moonlight. I kiss the little fingers and the damp forehead."—Author Unknown.

OUR SCHOOLS SERVE DEMOCRACY

WITH the opening of the schools of Hancock County near, it might be well for parents and teachers to do a little thinking about the pupils that present a problem to both of them.

Children going to a school system should not be regarded as raw material to be subjected to certain definite processes in the expectation that the finished product can be certain or standardized. Factors of inheritance and environment combine to make each child a special subject requiring, more or less, individualized treatment.

Parents who expect a school and its teachers to take a rough specimen of untrained humanity and develop it into a polished human being are looking for a good deal. They must not expect the school to take the place of the home and the church. The guidance that a teacher can give to a pupil is valuable and necessary but it should not replace entirely all function of parents.

Teachers, on the other hand, facing a mass of little human beings in their classrooms, should not overlook the importance of identifying each pupil as a separate and distinct human entity.

The good teacher is not a mass-worker. There must be the recognition of the peculiar difficulties that confront each student, together with an intelligent tolerance for the child, if the greatest improvement in the individual is to be secured.

Naturally, we are very proud of the schools in this community. The schoolhouse, in our opinion, is the bulwark of democratic processes, which should be understood, respected and observed by officials and teachers, as well as by students.

No one branch of the service wins any war which is a combined operation requiring the cooperation of all fighting men and most of the people at home.

In a little less than a month the people of Hancock County will begin sending Christmas packages overseas; this shows you how near Christmas is.

Many service men overseas enjoy The Echo regularly, thanks to the thoughtfulness of their relatives who send us their address. Can we say the same about you?

NEW MAGAZINE

"MISSISSIPPI TRANSPORTS" is the name of a new magazine being published in Jackson by the Mississippi Transport Association, Inc., with R. L. Brown as Editor-Manager. The current issue of the magazine is Volume one, Number eight. The magazine is devoted to the various phases of transportation, and that is a subject that affects all the people in some relation. We are told that in the United States there are 4,000 communities that depend entirely on highway transportation for bringing in and sending out all types of commerce, including the people who reside in these communities. We are told, too, that at least 1,445 of these communities are in Mississippi. This emphasizes the necessity of hi-ways and transportation facilities.

TEST SUIT

The Gulf Refining Co., filed a suit in the circuit court of Hinds county on Tuesday of last week to test the legality of the crude oil severance tax levied at the last session of the legislature. The law provides a severance tax of six cents a barrel on the crude oil or six per cent of the market price of the oil if that means more to the state than the six cents per barrel. The tax which went into effect after the adjournment of the legislature has already brought into the state treasury more than $10 thousand dollars.

SUPERVISORS MEET

The Mississippi Association of Supervisors held a meeting in Jackson on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Many questions of vital importance were discussed and considered. Tom Bailey, Sen. Jim Eastland, Sidney T. Roebuck, James Kendall, Oscar Wolfe, Stanley E. Reinhardt, Helen Cone, Elizabeth Prewitt, L. L. Sov. Fielding Wright, Walter Sillers, Sam Lumpkin, Jimmy Arrington, Walter Soliva, Ross A. Collins W. F. Bond, Dr. F. J. Underwood, Bert Barnett, W. E. Holcomb, L. I. Jones and Ben T. Collier.

TAX INCREASE

Representative John Phillips of Neshoba County, secretary of the committee investigating gasoline taxes and motor licenses for the legislature, stated last week that there had been a substantial increase in the gasoline tax and in the amount received from the sale of licenses as compared to the same period of last year. Mr. Phillips places the increase at $353,333.

"SHOW BUSINESS" AT A. & G. THEATER SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Eddie Cantor in Debut As Film Producer; Also Stars In Gay Story of Stage Folks—Star Supporting Cast

Presenting a gay entertaining story of the American theatre and its people, "Show Business," is a romantic comedy-drama that introduces many old song favorites, familiar tunes, acts and ensembles in a story covering two decades of theatre life. The brilliant cast includes Eddie Cantor, George Murphy, Joan Davis, Nancy Kelly and Constance Moore, who share stellar honors in the RKO Radio picture.

Murphy plays the part of George Doane, a burlesque star, who encourages the debut of frightened little Eddie Martin (Eddie Cantor) on the stage of the old Miners' Bowery. George and Eddie decided to team together, and later expand to a four-some when they join Joan Mason (Joan Davis) and Connie Ford (Constance Moore). The quartette rapidly soars to fame.

The romance between George and Connie collides with the ambitions of a burlesque queen, Nancy Gaye (Nancy Kelly). Then the World War comes along to disrupt the lives of the whole group.

How Eddie rescues George from oblivion after the war and the two begin scoring in various shows, leads up to the stirring climax.

Crammed with gay situations and dialogue to contrast with its dramatic moments, "Show Business" also features a sparkling new tune, "You May Not Remember," and eight old-time songs that are dovetailed into the story action in the various stage sequences. The old numbers include "They're Wearing 'Em Higher in Hawaii," "The Curse of an Aching Heart," "It Had To Be You," "I Want a Girl Just Like the Girl That Married Dear Old Dad," "Dinah," "I Don't Wanna Get Well," "Alabam Bound" and "Makin' Whoopee."

Don Douglas has a prominent role as a theatrical booking agent whose career is tied up with that of the other principals.

In addition to his starring role Cantor also produced the picture, which was directed by Edwin L. Marin, with Joseph Quillan and Dorothy Bennett writing the screenplay. Bert Grand is credited with the story honors and Irving Elinson wrote additional dialogue.

war level, OPA has authorized an increase in manufacturers' maximum prices of $2 per thousand for common and unglazed face building brick produced in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

Jobbers and dealers may pass on their resultant actual dollar-and-cents increase but the action was expected to have but little effect on the price of structures in which such brick is used.

The action, OPA said, was taken to bolster production of brick acutely needed now in face of growing lumber shortages.

An increase of about 25 cents per crate for producers and shippers of lettuce has been allowed by OPA.

The increase may be reflected on the retail market at about one-half to one cent per head on the current mark-up basis, District OPA Director Holcomb said today. The amendment establishes the maximum shipping point price at $3.25 per Los Angeles crate, permits added fixed additions for protective services, and adjusts distributors' mark-ups.

The Office of Price Administration has removed the time limitation that restricted the use of special shoe stamps.

Shoe stamps affected by the order were those issued as extra rations in hardship cases, refunds from dealers and as basic rations in some cases as, for example, to persons not eligible for War Ration Books. The action, which is retroactive, was taken to relieve shoe dealers from considerable detail in handling the program.

ORTIE THEATER SUNDAY AND MONDAY ANDY HARDY'S BLONDE TROUBLE

Starring Mickey Rooney,
Bonita Granville

"Andy Hardy's Blonde Trouble," the new Hardy picture, which plays Sunday and Monday at the Ortie Theatre, is the fourteenth of the popular series and introduces a new policy—that of having "name" stars in the film along with the celebrated Hardy regulars. The new additions to the Hardy cast are Herbert Marshall, Bonita Granville, Keye Luke, Jean Porter and Andy's blonde trouble—the Wilde Twins.

Andy Hardy sets off for college determined to make good, as his father did before him. On the train he meets Bonita Granville and learns she is to be a co-ed at Wainright. He also meets and dislikes Herbert Marshall—mainly because Bonita seems attracted to Marshall. Also on the train are the Wilde Twins, who add a novel twist to the plot because they tend to be only one person instead of two. Andy hits trouble as soon as he responds to the flirtatious wink of Lee, only to be nipped soon after by her twin sister, Lyn, who doesn't believe in playing around.

Andy Discovers Trouble
At college Andy discovers the twins' dilemma and tries to help them out. To do this he has to break a date with Bonita, leading her right into Marshall's arms. Andy is disgusted and is about to leave college in despair when the judge, his father, arrives and straightens out the mess to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Mickey Rooney carries on as Andy Hardy in a manner that will keep all his fans happy. Judge Hardy is played by Lewis Stone, Ma Hardy by the popular Fay Holden, and Aunt Milly by Sara Haden. Keye Luke, playing a young doctor, makes his first appearance in the series and supplies several diverting comedy moments with Jean Porter. Geo. B. Seitz directed with his usual flair for comedy for M-G-M.

SEDLAK—MARSHALL

A very pretty wedding was that of Miss Joyce Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Marshall, to Mr. Chas. Richard Sedlak.

The ceremony was celebrated on Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, at Logtown.

The living room where the ceremony took place, was beautifully decorated with a profusion of white summer flowers, Rosa Montana and lighted tapers. The reception rooms were additionally pretty with large vases of roses.

The Rev. Father Thomas Curran officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. A. E. Marshall and was a picture of loveliness in a pale blue sheer dress trimmed with bands of satin of the same, and wore on her head a pretty coronet fashioned of narrow pink velvet knotted ribbon and tulle. The diamond pendant necklace that she wore was a gift from her father to her mother on their wedding day. Her corsage was of orchids.

Mrs. Herbert Roddy, her sister, and only attendant, wore a becoming pastel pink dress of albatrus and her corsage was of pink carnations. The pretty flower girl, little Georgianne Cochran of Norco, La., was dressed in pink taffeta and carried a pink and blue bouquet.

Mr. Sedlak had as his best man Mr. N. Nick of Norco, La. Receiving with Mrs. Marshall, who wore a pink fallie dress and had a corsage of pink roses, was her mother, Mrs. A. Williams who wore a black fail dress with a gardenia corsage.

The bridal party left after an informal reception, to attend a dance at the Blue Room in New Orleans. On Saturday the bride and groom left by plane for Chicago, Ill., home of the groom, for a visit with his mother. Upon their return they will be at home at Norco, La., where the bride is employed as a parish health nurse and Mr. Sedlak is a government chemist for the Shell Oil Co. there.

Out of town guests at the wedding other than those from surrounding communities were: Dr. and Mrs. Frank Sedlak and Miss Blanche Sedlak of Chicago, brother and sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Cochran and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Saison and Mrs. G. Saison and Miss Connie of Norco, La.
